

a Predefined canonical markers are recovered in three matching root-identity programs

Canonical loci were fixed from primary literature before candidate lookup

b Recovered anchors retain quantitative separation

Candidate evidence is calculated from the public-data root case Literature-concordance audit: 3/6 predefined anchors recovered. Not wet-lab validation or an independent-matrix replication.

filled circle: recovered canonical locus; x: not present in stored top-20 list